As a pastor, not having knowledge of how to decorate a church can be very frustrating. However, in most churches you will find that there is a problem with providing the decorating. Chances are you have been doing this job for a long time, and perhaps you are no longer fully proficient in your decorating skills, or you simply are no longer interested in doing this work, and might not be very good at it. The next thing you need to look into is whether you are willing to spend the time and effort it takes to learn the very basics of interior decorating. The end result will be a nice and neat church, with all the services running well. It is vital that you know what you are doing and take control from a very early stage. Concepts to be learned first include planning and management. It is important to decide which parts of decorating you are willing to learn so that you can concentrate on those things. Decorating can be quite intimidating because so many different things need to be done, and you may not even know where to begin. Make sure you set out a plan for how you will approach the learning process. Consulting with a professional interior decorator is also a good idea. You may need some help figuring out what you want, how you can make it happen and how it will look. Try to make sure you research the different programs available for allowing you to design the looks. Check out the ones that are most appropriate for your needs. There are many different elements to interior decorating, and knowing what you are doing is only part of the process. Designing and making sure the items purchased are the right size, design, and quality are also important elements to be considered. You should always be on the lookout for anything that may be an issue and resolve it before you even start working. like to be treated like a human being, and for me that means I can make choices. Still, it is a nice change of pace to be around people who treat me as a real human being, not a convenience. My family calls me "human beef" because of my personality, but I don't want to be called that anymore. I am not beef, I am a person. Even though I have still not found my place in society, I am certainly far more independent than I used to be. I don't feel as when life handed me things. I am more like
